English Language Proficiency Exam Results for English Learner Students (ELLs) in Massachusetts, 2012-2019

Results shifted after the state began using a different exam after 2016, but prior to the shift the majority of ELL students in MA appeared to make progress on their proficiency each year. Despite the shift, percent of ELL students passing proficiency remains consistent around 20%.

Source: U.S. Department of Education, ED Data Express | Visual by Raquel Rosenbloom